QE2 protestors, led by Barry Cross, outside Campus West

The QE2 hospital project is being criticised by the council chamber at Campus West, WGC.

The demonstrators picketed the entrance to the council chamber before Wednesday night's Development Consultation Forum meeting, which heard proposals for the new hospital on the current QE2 site.

Members of the public were admitted to the meeting but were not allowed to speak and Barry Cross, secretary of the Welwyn & Hatfield Keep NHS Public Campaign, said: "The idea of suppressing so many important questions councillors are allowed to ask questions just how transparent, open and democratic is this local democracy?"

He also said: "We won't really have an A&E department."

Outside the meeting Mr Cross told the WHT: "It is our services that are being destroyed."

He added: "It [the QE2] won't even be a proper hospital. It is diabolical and it is a travesty."
