BUYING AN OSCAR PET FOOD RESALE
FRANCHISE HAS GIVEN FORMER LEGAL SECRETARY
PIPPA CROW A BETTER QUALITY OF LIFE

OSCAR is a business opportunity that comes complete with back-up and support. There is a team of experts on hand to help franchisees manage their commitment professionally, while extending the facility direct to their customers with behavioural and nutritional advisers.

Veterinary support is also available to franchisees, which adds further value to OSCAR's products and services.

IDEAL

Pippa Crow was already a customer and aware of what she was taking on when she approached OSCAR about buying a franchise. She explains: "From London to Devon to OSCAR - and to my ideal way of life. I was a legal secretary for over 20 years, spending the majority of this time in London.

"In search of a better quality of life, a move to Devon by the sea was a dream come true. For a time I pursued the politics of the legal profession and at the first opportunity I found work at the Royal Horticultural Society, only to be made redundant. Redundancy forced me to rethink my future - to have a fulfilling and flexible job that allowed me more time to spend with my husband and two children meant working for myself."

Pippa says moving to Devon resulted in her three greyhounds and four cats being introduced to OSCAR. "Changing their food made all the difference both in looks and fitness - I was delighted," she explains. "And when it came to my notice that an OSCAR resale franchise was available in my area I did not hesitate to make contact.

"Buying an existing business was a good start because certain elements were already in place, but before making a final decision I researched the business opportunity fully via the internet and locally."

SUPPORT

Pippa says she's adapted well to her new business, while the support she's received from her family has been a great help: "My husband works with me on a Monday - his role as stock rotation manager keeps me organised - and my daughter, our sales director, promotes the business wherever she goes. Of course, my pets sing the praises of OSCAR by just looking good on their healthy diet.

"I'm not working for pleasure but it's a pleasure to work, and now that I have time for my home and family I can also enjoy my gardening hobby surrounded by my dogs."

An opportunity with Oscar can provide you with a whole new way of life. Working from home and delivering a quality product to satisfied customers can only mean a great future. MM
