Tracey Espelund enjoys a more relaxed way of life as an OSCAR pet product delivery franchisee

Tracey Espelund describes her introduction to her OSCAR pet product delivery franchise as: "Brilliant". A customer of the company, she had first-hand experience of OSCAR pet food, which had helped her elderly German Shepherd, who suffered from pancreatitis, cope with his condition.

Lifestyle change

Tracey explains: "Working in the high powered world of accountancy, which at times took me to different countries, it became clear after attending an OSCAR discovery meeting that the chance to change my lifestyle was close to home.

"I could see how OSCAR offered me the ideal future career - to take control of my own destiny, with the independence of working for myself, was going to be a far more satisfying challenge.

"My close connection with the products and service made everything much easier to understand and, combined with the back-up support, I was grateful for the strong sense of loyalty within the company. Every department provided so much help and advice, which remains ongoing.

"I bought into an area that was already being serviced by OSCAR, but was in need of further development. By following the OSCAR guidelines, the system is helping me build my business.

"Having an existing customer base has already introduced me to new contacts and even more rewarding is the joy of being able to make a difference to pets with nutritional problems."

Tracey says she likes being part of a large network of franchisees, which she uses to strengthen the presence of her OSCAR business within her trading territory.

Share experiences

She adds: "By joining forces with neighbouring franchisees at local shows and events, we make time to share experiences and bounce ideas off each other. With a good mix of ages and backgrounds, there's so much to gain.

"My new career means I can forget the past and enjoy a relaxed way of life, where I can be flexible in giving my time where it's appreciated." WF
